Announcing the election of Charles Hoernle as coach of all forms of athletics at Norwich university for the coming college year, the Norwich University Record of the current issue has the following to say about the former Goddard seminary teacher and athletic coach: "Charles Hoernle, the coach of the successful baseball team of this season, has been engaged to take charge of athletics for the year. He will coach football, baseball and basketball. The success of Mr. Hoernle with the baseball team is known; he has also been successful with preparatory football teams, and is the type of coach who understands and can handle college men. Under the system of football used last season, a large squad was kept in practice, and about 18 players who played in the big games of the year will be available; so Norwich, with good material and a coach who knows the situation at Norwich, may be expected to be a headliner in athletics."
Miss Ethel Parry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Parry of this city and Francis Cummings, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis G. Cummings of Buffalo, were united in marriage July 29 at 8:30 p. m. by Rev. Crane Myers of the First Baptist church, at the residence of the bride's cousin, A. J. Boutwell, 192 North Main street, Concord, N. H. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Miss Ruth Parry, sister of the bride, Miss Grace Parry, a sister, being bridesmaid, and William G. Cummings, brother of the groom, the best man. Two cousins of the bride, Harley and Lewellyn Boutwell, acted as ushers. The bride was daintily attired in a gown of white georgette over white silk, trimmed with white ribbon. Her veil was fastened with white lilies and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid was attired in green silk crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The parlor was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and goldenrod, which partially encircled the bridal party. The couple were the recipients of many pieces of beautiful silver and other presents. A bountiful collation was served, following the ceremony, after which the happy couple left for The Weirs, N. H., on their bridal tour.

The Beacon Shows All Next Week.
This sterling carnival attraction opens a week's engagement on the Berlin street grounds, commencing Monday, and comes to our city being endorsed as the leading attraction of its kind now before the public. It is really a small modern circus in itself, consisting of its midway, its merry-go-round and ferris wheel, the light of the little ones; the modern society circus, the big 10-in-1 show, the athletic arena, Cleo, the mystic, and her den of snakes, the human heart, not a freak, but a living phenomenon, and many other novel features. In paying a visit to this attraction, you will have the pleasure of seeing the leading one of its kind now before the public and one that comes to your city endorsed by the press of all cities played, and one that will meet the admiration of the Barre amusement goers.—adv.

CREATIVE ABILITY.

Mr. Galsworthy Thinks War Has Lessened It.

The spiritual point is this: In front of a man in ordinary civilized existence there hovers ever that moment in the future when he expects to prove himself more of a man than he has yet proved himself. For these soldiers of the great carnage the moment of probation is already in the past. They have proved themselves as they will never have the chance to do again, and secretly they know it. One talks of their powers of heroism and sacrifice being wanted just as much in time of peace; but that cannot really be so, because peace times do not demand men's lives—which is the ultimate test—with every minute that passes. No, the great moment of their existence lies behind them, young though so many of them are. This makes them at once greater than us, yet in a way smaller, because they have lost the power and hope of expansion. They have lived their masterpiece already. Human nature is elastic, and hope springs eternal, but a climax of experience and sensation cannot be repeated; I think these have reached and passed the uttermost climax; and in Europe they number millions.
This is a veritable portent, and I am glad that in America you will not have it to any great extent.
Now, how does this affect the future? Roughly speaking, it must, I think, have a diminishing effect to what I may call loosely—creative ability. People have often said to me: "We will have great writings and paintings from these young men when they come back." We shall certainly have poignant expression of their experiences and sufferings, and the best books and paintings of the war itself are probably yet to come. But, taking the long view, I do not believe we shall have from them, in the end, as much creative art and literature as we should have had if they had not been through the war.—John Galsworthy in Scribner's.

VILLAGE OF CONCORD WAS THREATENED

But Flames Were Subdued After Two Houses and Two Barns Had Been Consumed—Seven Houses Ablaze at One Time.

St. Johnsbury, Aug. 2.—The houses of Mrs. Elvira Ford and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hastings and the barns of Mrs. Ford and Frank Joslin at Concord were destroyed by fire yesterday, and it was only by hard work that the entire village was saved from destruction, as at one time seven houses in the center of the village were ablaze.
The fire is said to have been started by boys playing with matches. The start of the fire was in a shed owned by Mr. Joslin, where five tons of hay was stacked. The hay in this shed was aflame when the blaze was first discovered. Aid was summoned from St. Johnsbury and other towns but there was no apparatus available that could be sent over the road. Several firemen from St. Johnsbury made the trip by automobile and aided the local people who at this time had the fire under control.
Besides the houses destroyed by fire the following homes caught fire but were saved by the hard work of the fire fighters: W. O. Rocheleau, F. A. Brewer, Mrs. George Howard, R. N. Southworth and Mrs. L. M. Lewis. The work of the fire fighters under the direction of Fire Warden Carl White was nothing short of marvelous. The men pulled off their coats, jumped onto the ladders and climbed onto the side of roofs which were blistering under the heat, but they held their places until the fire was fought to a standstill.
The losses from the fire are: Mrs. Elvira Ford, house and barn, $2,200; Fred Hastings' house and damage to barn, $3,000; Frank Joslin, barn and contents, $1,000; damage to other buildings, $1,000.

and expense and loss of time. The money spent in care, medicine, nursing, etc., is stated to be $1,500.
At the time of the accident Mr. Amidon and Emory Carey of West Chesterfield were riding the motorcycle, and Mr. Carey sustained a fracture of one leg. Amidon was 21 years old and Carey 18. Mrs. Gordon at that time was Miss Doris P. Clark of Bridgeport, Conn. Mr. Gordon was a lieutenant in the aviation corps, and he and Miss Clark were married that afternoon in the summer home of the bride's parents. They were riding in a Hudson coupe owned by W. W. Gordon, father of David W. Gordon.

KILLED BY AUGUR

Highgate Man Had Just Installed the Machinery in His Shop.

Highgate Center, Aug. 2.—Theodore Guay, who has operated a small shop here for the past two years, was fatally injured at about 7 o'clock Thursday evening when an augur on an automatic machine which he had just installed and was testing out, entered his abdomen, penetrating about seven inches, resulting in the loss of so much blood that the man died in about 10 minutes.
Guay had a combination planer, buzz-saw, jig-saw, and boring machine, run by an electric motor, installed, and on Thursday evening he began operating the machine. He was sawing a board when he stepped around in front of the augur on the machine. Ten minutes later he was dead.
Guay was 24 years old, having been born March 16, 1895. He was an industrious, hard working young man and was a nephew of Rev. P. R. Gauthier of this town. He is survived by two brothers. The funeral was held at the Catholic church this morning at 9 o'clock.
